

Reach University transforms jobs into degrees and credentials, offering affordable, on-the-job programs for individuals working in California public schools.

If you have...

...your Reach pathway to teaching will take a high school diploma or equivalent

BA Liberal Studies
4 years

Intern
+1 year*

30 transfer-level college credits

BA Liberal Studies
3 years

Intern
+1 year*

an associate's degree (any major)

BA Liberal Studies
2 years

*Intern** – Integrated Bachelor's/Master's degree and Preliminary Credential program
+1 Year* – Additional year available for eligible Reach candidates

a bachelor's degree

Intern Teacher
2 years**

** M.A. in Teaching with Early Completion Option (ECO) available for qualifying candidates

Complete a free application at grad.apply.reach.edu

Reach University offers a job-embedded B.A. program for classified school employees, allowing them to earn credit for on-the-job experience and complete coursework via evening Zoom seminars for just $75/month after aid. The Intern/M.A.T. program enables eligible bachelor's degree holders to teach full time while earning a credential and master's degree for $7,500 per year. The Teacher Induction Program provides a two-year, mentor-supported pathway for new teachers aligned to California standards, with annual tuition of $4,500–$5,000 depending on the pathway.

Learn more at reach.edu

Reach University is accredited by the WASC Senior College and University Commission and offers teacher credentialing programs through its partnership with Alternatives in Action, which is accredited by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

